WAGE

Arthur W. Allison Of U.E.L. Descent Accident Victim

1962

Funeral service for Arthur Wright Allison of Adolphustown, was held from the Tierney Funeral Home, Napanee, Friday, November 21, to Dorland United Church. Mr. G. Potter of Conway officiated. Interment Allison mausoleum, Adolphustown. Pall bearers were Jack Duffett, Alex Allen, Jonathan Allen, Hugh Allison, Jack Prout and Jack Roblin.

Mr. Allison died November 18, 1962, in Prince Edward County Hospital, Picton, three days after being admitted after suffering injuries in a farm accident. He was riding on a wagon load of wood being pulled by a tractor driven by his son Percy. The trailer unhooked from the tractor, the tongue, striking the highway, swerved and Mr. Allison was thrown beneath the trailer.

Mr. Allison was born at Adolphustown, and was in his 82nd year. He was a direct descendant of the United Empire Loyalists, and had always resided in Adolphustown township. He was an esteemed resident, a good neighbor and will be greatly missed. A member of the United Church, he served on the Board and was also a member of the U.E.L. Association.

Surviving are four children, Balfour and Percy and Harriet at home, Mrs. Leslie Chiles (Marjorie) of Wilton. A daughter, Martha E. Allison died as an infant. There are four grandchildren, Mrs. Gerald Courtney (Shirley) of Picton, Ronald Carman and Marilyn Chiles; a great grandchild, Keith Arthur Courtney, Picton.

Henry Allison, J.P.

of Adolphustown

Born on the old family homestead, son of Joseph Allison, J.P., which has been occupied by the Allison family ever since the first settlers came in 1784 & lived here for the 77 years of his life. After the American Revolution the family, which was a large one, got very widely scattered in the States & Canada. In the Maritime provinces, as well as pretty generally throughout Ontario, the family is now well represented.

Deeply interested in the early history of Adolphustown & the Midland District. Liberal.

Surviving brothers & sisters

1. David W., Ex-M.P. & formerly a Warden of our County Council.
2. Cyrus, of Parma, also a Warden of the County Council.
3. Joseph, an ex-Reeve of Adolphustown.
4. Edward, Port Perry.
5. Mrs. Rev. Briden, of Kington.
6. Mrs. Lewis Brown, of Adolphustown.
7. Mrs. Nelson Mallory, of Mallory's Point, Adolphustown.

M married a daughter, years ago, of the late Solomon Wright, of Fredericksburg.

1. Harry, of Conway.
2. Fred, on the homestead.

Took pride over the fact that there stood on his farm probably the oldest barn in the county, having been built by a Mr. Secord, a carpenter, who before 1800, at Glenora town after was interested in the building of the Major Vandalstine grist mill, which was said to have been the first flour mill in Pr. Edw. Co.

Died 11th Inst (Nov. 1902) at his residence.

David W. Allison

of Adolphustown

Son of late Joseph Allison, of U.E. Loyalist stock, one of a large family. Remaining brothers are, Cyrus, of Parma; Joseph, of Adolphustown; John Henry died some years ago. The sisters are Mrs. Gennoles, of Adolphustown, Mrs. W. Briden, Kingston, & Mrs. Mallory, Adolphustown.

Some time after leaving school Mr. Allison entered commercial pursuits. Was extensively engaged in the manufacture of lumber & salt in the Saginaw Valley, Mich., & held important interests in mineral lands. In addition to such enterprises Mr. Allison engaged in farming upon an extensive scale, & was some years ago the largest landowner in the County.

Reformer. In 1881 was warden of the County. In 1882 was elected to represent the constituency of Lennox in the parliament of Canada, & made a good representative. Held highest degrees in masonry.

Married in 1876 Amelia Elizabeth Embury, a member of one of the oldest families in the township. Survived by his widow & 1 son & 3 sons

1. Miss Marnie
2. Dr. David, in the United States
3. John E., collector of Customs, Hapana.
4. Raymond, at home.

Methodist

Owned a palatial residence in Adolphustown on the shores of the Bay of Quinte.

Died Tuesday afternoon aged 85 yrs. prematurely hastened by an accident in Porton over a year ago, when he was knocked down by a runaway horse

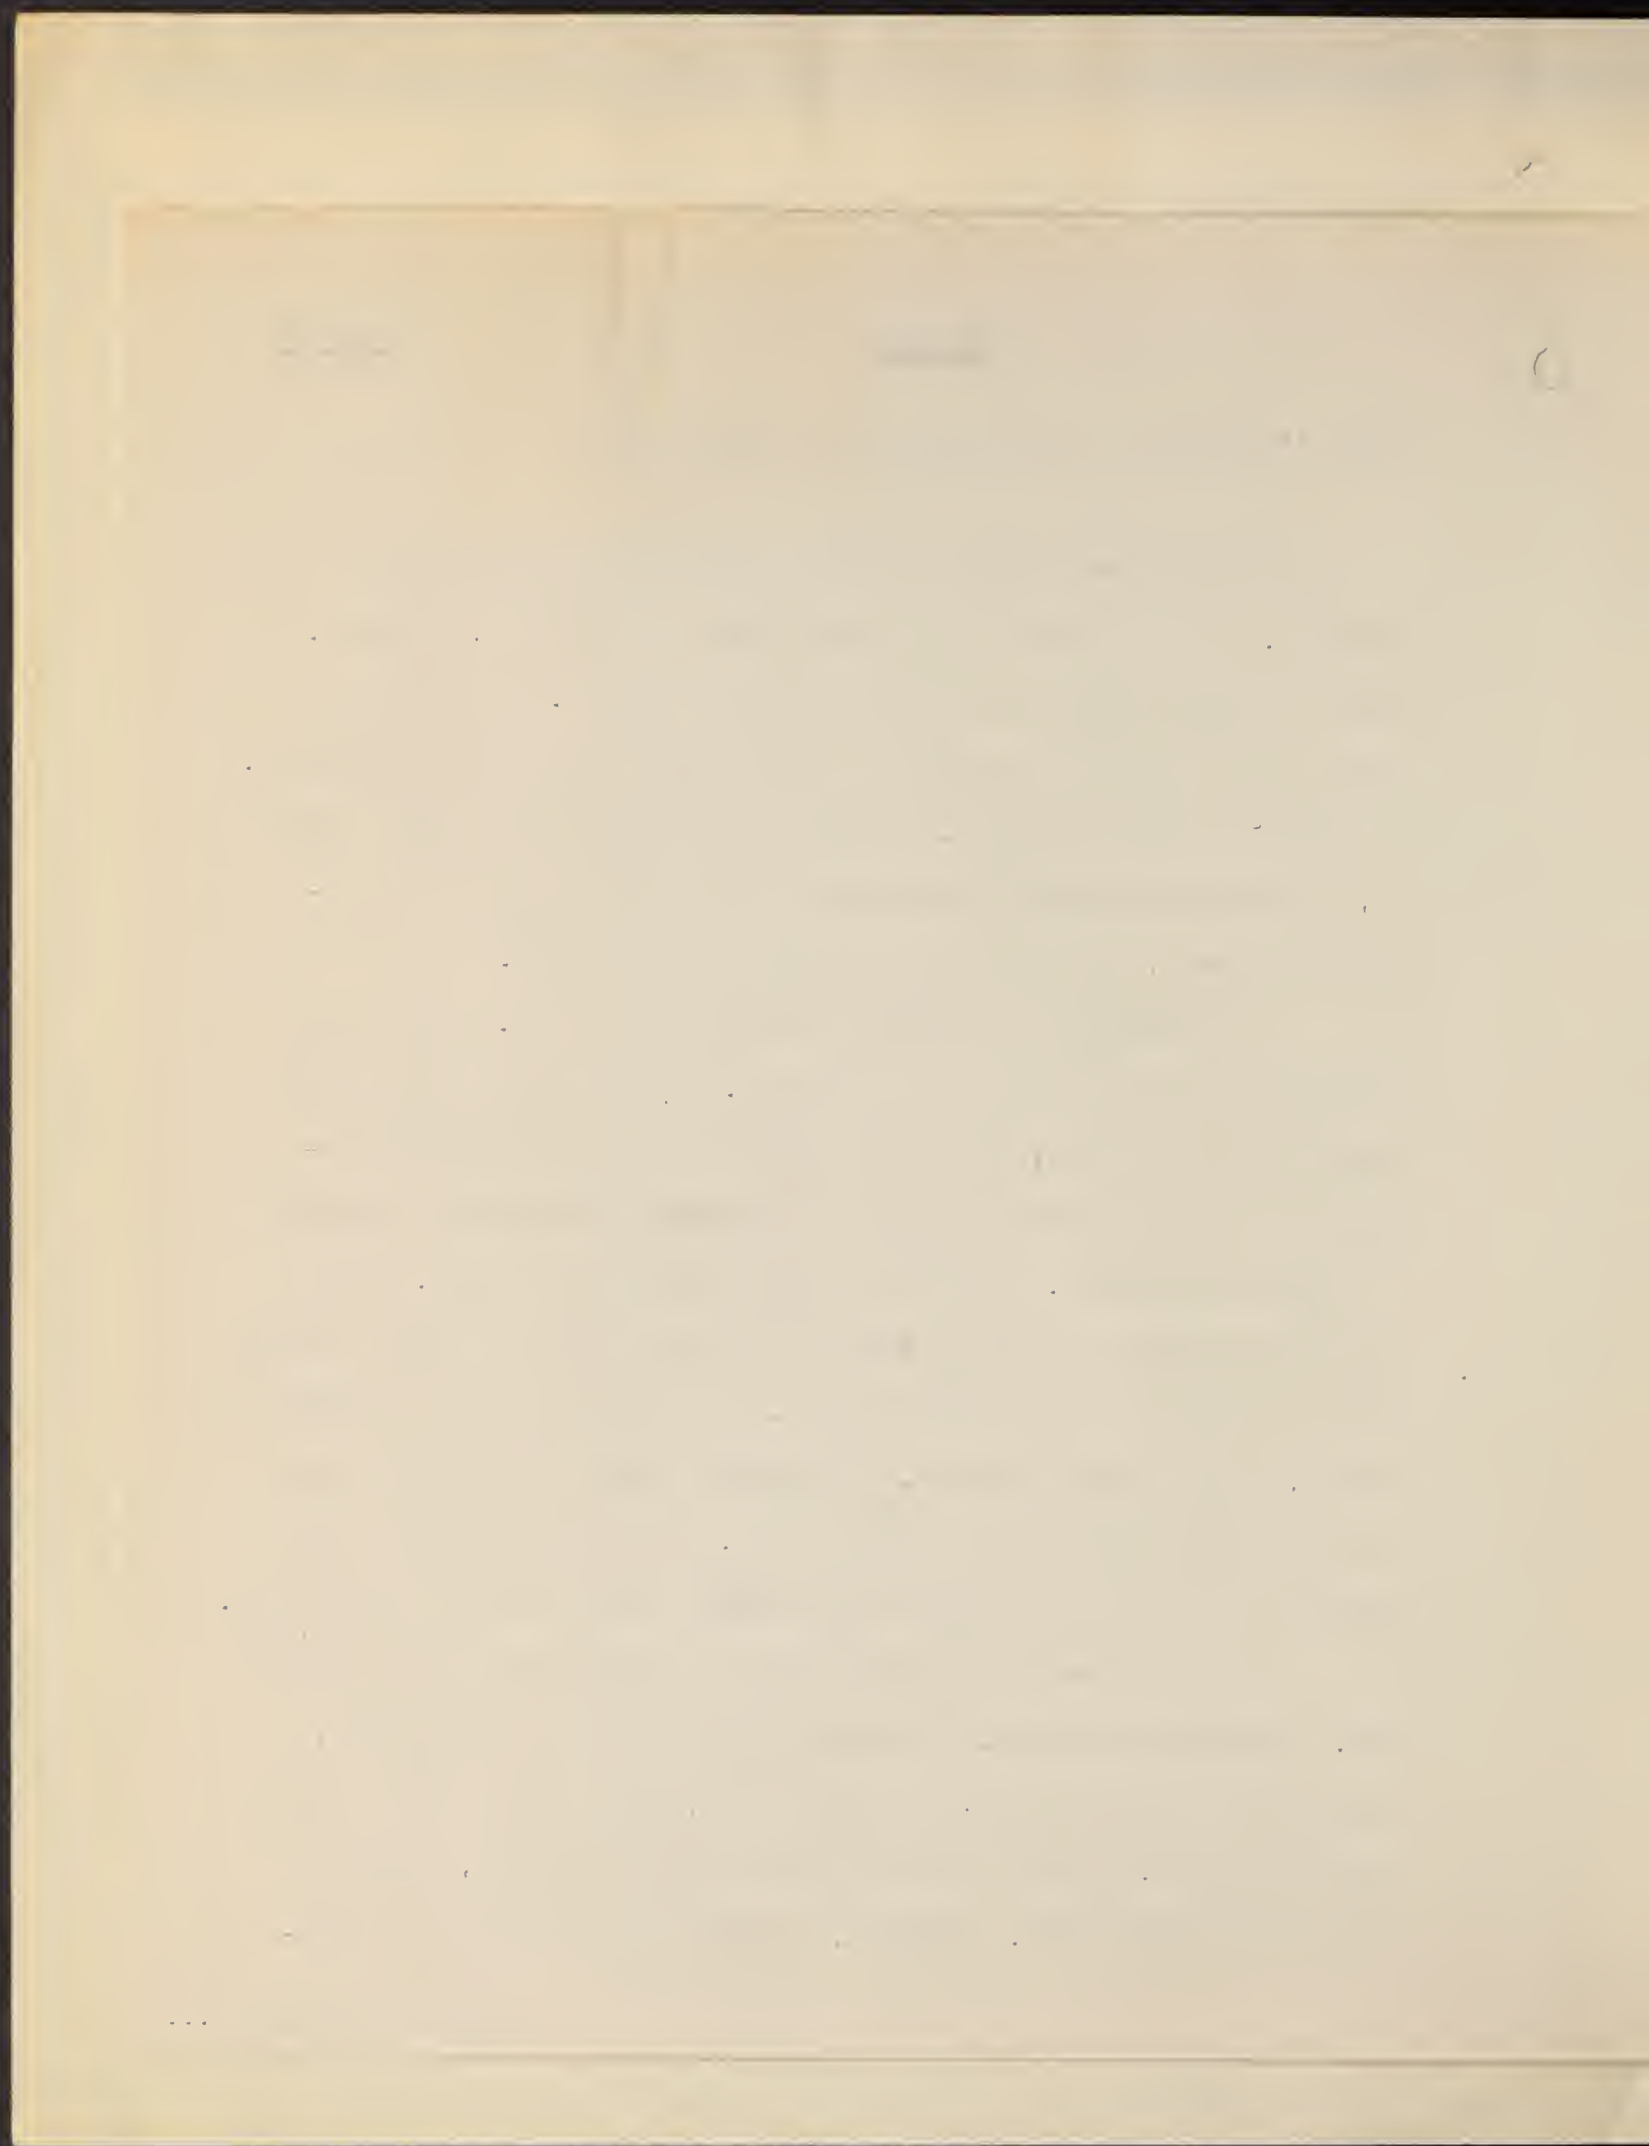

Canniff's History of the Settlement of Upper Canada

We have seen that the rebellion led to the divisions of families. It was so with the Allison family of Havestraw, New York. There were seven brothers, two sided with the rebels. One Benjamin, being a boy, was at home, while the other four took part with loyalists. One settled in New Brunswick, probably the Edward Allison Sabine speaks of, who had been captain in De Lancey's third battalion, and who received half-pay, and after whom Mount Allison is called.

John Allison was living at Havestraw, New York. He was for a time engaged in the navy yard at New York. At one time he and another entered the rebel camp, and after remaining a few days availed themselves of a dark night and carried off five excellent horses belonging to a troop of cavalry. They were pursued and barely escaped. Allison took these horses in return for the loss of his house and other property which the rebels had ruthlessly burned. He was at the battle of White Plains, and had narrow escapes, his comrade beside him was shot down, and his canteen belt cut in two by a ball. As he could not carry the canteen, he took time to empty that vessel of the rum which it contained.

His neighbors at Havestraw were exceedingly vindictive against him. After several years, he visited there to see his aged mother, when a mob attempted to tar and feather him, and he had to hide in the woods all night. Allison came to Canada with Van Alstine, and drew lot 17, in Adolphustown. A strong, healthy and vigorous man, he contributed no little to the early settlement. Died upon his farm, aged eighty-eight. His wife's name was Mary Richmond, of a well-known quaker family. His descendants still occupy the old homestead, a most worthy family. Benjamin Allison, the youngest, came to Adolphustown in 1795.

Is 92 Years Old

Joseph B. Allison, oldest man in the Township of Adolphustown, celebrated his ninety-second birthday over the week-end. Mr. Allison is a descendant of the United Empire Loyalists who landed in Adolphustown in 1784. His father, Joseph B. Allison, came to this country when an infant, with his uncle, Joseph B. Allison, and settled on the farm now owned by C. F. Allison.

Personal Notes.

The Allisons.

Joseph Allison, the first town constable named at the first town meeting, was of Scottish descent, but was a native of New York State and one of the Pioneer Refugees. He settled on the Bay Shore in the first concession. His wife was Mary Richmond. They had no children. He adopted his nephew Joseph B. Allison, and made him his heir. He was a farmer and died on his farm in 1840, aged 86 years; his wife died at 95 years. They were both buried in the U. E. L. burying ground at Adolphustown. Joseph B. Allison, his nephew and adopted son, lived and died on the same farm, which is now owned and occupied by his son Henry and grandson. There are today three generations living in the same house. He was an active and influential man in Church and State. He became a Methodist local preacher in 1835, receiving his certificate from Rev. Wm. Ryerson, who was then the presiding elder. He was for years a township officer, elected at the Town meetings, and later on Reeve of the township and a member of the Counties Council for Frontenac, Lennox and Addington. He was also for years Superintendent of Schools for the township--in the sixties--and held other positions. His brother Cyrus became a leading Methodist minister, and died at Picton years ago. Joseph died and was buried in Adolphustown over thirty years ago. One son, David Wright Allison, has twice represented Lennox in the House of Commons, and was Warden of the County, and for years a member of the County and Township Councils. Another son, Cyrus Allison, is now a County Commissioner for the U. E. L. division in the County Council, and was Reeve of South Fredericksburg. Another, Joseph, is Clerk of the Court and a leading man in the church. There are a large number of descendants.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF THE GENERAL LAND OFFICE

1881-1882

THE LANDS

During the year 1881-1882, the first time since 1871-1872, the land revenue of the United Kingdom has been estimated to be less than the expenditure on the same. This is due to a variety of causes, the principal of which are the following:—
1. The land revenue has been reduced by the operation of the Land Tax Act, 1875, which has caused a considerable decrease in the amount of land tax payable.
2. The land revenue has been reduced by the operation of the Land Tax Act, 1875, which has caused a considerable decrease in the amount of land tax payable.

THE ALLISON FAMILY OF ADOLPHUSTOWN

By Mrs H. W. Branscombe (daughter of Rev. Cyrus R. and Eva Hoover Allison) U.E., in 1922

It can quite easily be understood by us here and now, that the first men and women who found their way to this unknown country, would be too busily occupied in making history to bother with the recordings of experiences for the benefit of descendants.

Naturally they were struggling under the most trying conditions, to establish homes in the wilderness and grow food for families, so as a consequence records available in connection with those early years of forefathers and foremothers in this new land, are few and far between.

Of trials and ambitions to make of unbroken forest and field the beautiful fruitful acres stretching out on either side of us, scant reference can be traced. However, as best we may, we will try and clothe the skeleton of bare facts secured from scattered sources, that their relation to development of eventful history may be the more readily understood and possibly remembered.

As far as we could discover the first mention in history of some one bearing the name of Allison, is a record that sometime in the middle of the Seventeenth century, a John Allison, a Scottish Highlander, left Edinburgh to make a home in the American Colonies. It is said he located at Haverstraw, New York, marrying an English woman by the name of Amy Wood, and so became the founder of the Allisons on this continent.

His son married also an English woman, but of Dutch descent, and his business was connected with the carrying trade between New York and the West Indies. During the Revolutionary War he endeavoured to keep neutral, but his sons, of whom there were seven, grandsons of the first John Allison, engaged actively in the war. All of them excepting Benjamin the youngest, bearing arms, four with the Loyalists and two with the rebels. There is very little to be learned in history of this band of brothers, and of their subsequent careers scant mention is made. One of them, Edward, is spoken of as a Captain in DeLancy's 3rd Batt., and after retiring from the army, he settled in New Brunswick, and Mount Allison was named for him. Among other claims as benefitting posterity, he is remembered as the founder of Mount Allison University. A most creditable record surely, and proves he was a prominent citizen at that time.

A brother Isaac was an officer in the American army during the war and at its conclusion he went west, where he probably was the first to establish the Allisons in Indiana. His descendants, it is supposed, include the mother of the late President McKinley.

Another brother, John the second, served under Governor Carleton at the Siege of Quebec in 1775 and was killed when General Montgomery attacked the town on New Year's Day.

Of the other brothers they are seldom mentioned in records of activities of those early times, but some accounts have come down to us of Joseph, Jeremiah, and Benjamin, because after trying journeyings, they settled in Adolphustown and Prince Edward county.

At the outbreak of the Revolutionary war, Joseph, in whom we are particularly interested at this time, was working in the New York Navy Yard. He threw in his lot with the Loyalists however, and from all accounts we may gather, he proved himself a brave and loyal soldier of the King. It is related that at the battle of White Plains he had some narrow escapes while in the fighting line. A comrade beside him was shot down, while his canteen belt was cut in two by a ball. Instances are given of his special fortitude and daring. At the ending of the war, he evidently being as true a Loyalist as ever, turned his steps to Canada and reached Adolphustown in company with Major VanAlstine's party in 1764, only about a century and a half ago. In the drawing of homesteads to which all Loyalists were ~~entitled~~ entitled, he came into possession of the fine "Moose Farm", where his nephew Joseph, and then grand nephew Henry, and now great grand nephew Frederick following in line with ancestors keeps up most worthily traditions of the past, with hospitable doors always open, and everything relating to best interests of the community is always in evidence. Joseph Allison married Mary Richmond, born in Rhode Island in 1745 and therefore thirty-nine years old when her husband to be reached Adolphustown. She was the daughter of Cyrus Richmond, a direct descendant in the fourth generation of John Richmond, a famous New England Quaker of that day. As the pioneer Joseph Allison had no children of his own, he and his wife adopted the son of his brother Benjamin, whose name was also Joseph, and who was the father of Joseph the third, who is here today, whom you all know and respect and who is a link connecting the past with the present means much to the present generation.

The family of Joseph the second included David W. Allison, Amy Gunsaulus, Cyrus, Henry, Elizabeth, Mirriam, Joseph the third, Jane Mallory, and Edward, children of the fourth generation of Allisons in America. Of this clever and industrious family of brothers and sisters, few are left. They did the work given them to do each day, loyally and faithfully, lived lives of usefulness, having regard to the best development of country as well as the well being of home and family. They passed over to the majority leaving records of eventful careers which descendants may do well to keep in remembrance. Of the fathers and mothers of this generation they are well known to you all, for they are your near kin. You hope for them in the future all that can make life truer and richer. To inspire them to greater achievements, they have a heritage of brave and loyal ancestors, who literally hewed out in this wilderness of this Canada of ours, comfortable and artistic homes, and had a distinctive share in making this part of our beloved country rank among the most beautiful in America.

In 1884--38 years ago--the Centennial of the landing of the pioneer band, known now as the U.E. Loyalists, in Adolphustown was celebrated not far from where we are now gathered. The feeling had become very general at that time, that the century birthday of our beloved Canada should be honoured and kept in some memorable way. And so by rights Adolphustown celebrated the event in a very successful manner. It was an important event in our country's history, and the story of the three day celebration is most interesting. Interest was very widespread and sympathetic friends came from all parts of Canada.

Mr David Allison well and favorably known to you older ones, had a large part in promoting plans for this celebration, and with brothers Henry and Joseph had a special share in the success of the patriotic undertaking and making of the three commemorative days, something of which future history might make favorable mention.

Before closing I might make an especial appeal to the younger members of the Allison clan, the children of the third and fourth generations since these shores were first settled. You enjoy now the consequences of the stern experiences of ancestors who toiled early and late, through all kinds of discouragements, that you might benefit. The most severe trials could not dishearten them. They kept faith with themselves and their God, that children and children's children might enter into this heritage and enjoy it. They bequeathed to you honoured reputations and loyal traditions to help you to a wider and richer future than they themselves enjoyed. You have so many things they lacked but knew the value of. Educational advantages of the best, and opportunities for making of yourselves whatever your ambition hoped for. This is your heritage, you Allisons of this generation, bequeathed by far-seeing ancestors. See that you make the most of wonderful opportunities that not only this country-side, but Canada and the world may be the better that you lived.

(The above article, hand written by her dear mother, is a prized possession of Gena Branscombe Tenney of New York City who has fulfilled her mother's wish by making good her heritage in the musical world.,

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or a page from a manuscript. The text is written in dark ink on a light-colored paper. The handwriting is somewhat faded and difficult to decipher, but appears to be a continuous flow of words. The text is arranged in several lines, with some words appearing to be underlined or emphasized. The overall style suggests a historical or literary document.

Dear Sir:

I was advised to contact you regarding my ancestors. Am trying to establish a direct line from John Allam of Stonestown, N. Y. to Benjamin Allam who died 1882 or 1884 in Hastings County who was my grandfather. His son was Benjamin Franklin Allam of whom I am a daughter.

I have history on Parents of Ben of Quinta but its incomplete, as can you tell me as to the direct line back and Parents to John Allam »

Can you tell me who Grandfather Allison's parents were and where and their parents before them?

Have you information as to why
John Allison was granted this set acres of land at Stonewall, N.Y.?

In what capacity did John serve the Colonies previous to the Revolution in the Government or otherwise?

Will be at 55 Cedar St. Billerick Mass. and would like to hear from you then.

Sincerely
Nathaniel Allison Schenck

The marriage of Miss Frances Forester, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Forester, Bath, to Mr. Raymond Joseph Allison, son of the late D. W. and Mrs. Allison, Adolphustown, was solemnized in the Methodist Church at 4 o'clock on New Year's Day by Rev. J. B. Everson. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in cream duchesse satin, with pearl trimming, and carried white roses. Her tulle veil was draped in cap effect, caught up with orange blossoms. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Forester, who wore yellow silk trimmed with plaited chiffon and sable fur, and carried cream roses and violets. The groom was supported by his brother, J. B. Allison, Napanee. The ushers were: Mr. W. P. Detlor and Mr. R. Roblin. The wedding march was rendered by Miss M. T. Keller, Toronto. During the signing of the register Mrs. (Prof.) Robertson, Toronto, sang "A Psalm of Love." After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allison left for Camden, New York, and other points. The bride travelled in a suit of brown Bedford cord, with plush hat to match.

DR. D. M. ALLISON

Am 4 1956

One of the youngest medical graduates of Queen's University, Kingston, and a member of one of the oldest families in Ontario, Dr. David M. Allison, died early last Thursday morning at his home in Camden, New York. He was 77.

Born at Adolphustown, a son of the late D. W. Allison, at one time Member of Parliament for Lennox-Addington in the 1830's, and his wife, the former Florence I. Roberts, the late Dr. Allison graduated in medicine from Queen's in 1900 and did post-graduate study in England. He practised for a year at Mountain Grove before moving to the United States in 1902. His earlier education was received at Adolphustown and Picton High School.

In ill-health for some time, deceased had retired eight years ago.

He leaves his wife and a son and two daughters, Dr. W. E. Allison, of Camden, N.Y., and Mrs. D. C. McKnight (Ihobel), of Syracuse, N.Y., and Mrs. R. Borbourn (Margaret), of Baldwinsville, N.Y.

Also surviving is a sister, Miss Mary L. Allison, of Napanee, who formerly taught at Bishop Strachan School in Toronto, and two brothers, John B. Allison, of Napanee, at one time postmaster here, and Raymond J. Allison, of Adolphustown.

The funeral was held Saturday, with interment at Camden, N.Y.

his chosen mission. He has, however, left a monument more lasting than any which great wealth would have procured for him, for there are many youths, now good citizens in the making, who but for his kindly interest would have turned out far otherwise. Like Carmelia, mother of the Gracchi, Commissioner Starr might have said of them, "These are my jewels!"

SIR ALLEN AYLESWORTH HONORED BY MASONS

Ionic Lodge, A. F. & A. M., took occasion to honor its former Master, Sir Allen Aylesworth, at the Temple Building last night. Sir Allen has been elevated to the position of Grand Senior Deacon by Grand Master W. D. McPherson. Worshipful Master Cassels in a suitable address presented Sir Allen with a complete regalia for his high office and referred in in the anti-aircraft artillery of the United States Armed Forces. Mr. Jones is a brother of Mrs. Stan Shane (Hilda), of this district.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Storms announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Lorraine, R.N., to William Colin Filson, Port Colborne, Ont., son of Mrs. Filson and the late Mr. David Filson, of Kingston, Ontario. The marriage will take place on May 5th, at 2 o'clock in Trinity United Church, Napanee.

+ George S. Allison, the subject of this sketch, passed his early life in the city of New York. In 1812 he was an officer in Colonel Washburn's regiment and was stationed at Sandy Hook where he had an opportunity of taking an active part in the second war with Great Britain. At the close of the war he ~~had an opportunity of taking an~~ came to Haverstraw at the invitation of his grandmother, who was living upon the old homestead, which had been left to her by her husband. In October, 1818, he married Hannah, daughter of Jones Brewster, whose wife, Mary, was the daughter of Rev. Robert Berris. Soon after this he purchased in North Haverstraw (now Stony Point) a small piece of ground where his residence now stands. It was then owned by Wendell Mace, who was anxious to sell and move to what was then the "West," now the central part of this State, "where 100 acres of good land could be bought for fifty dollars." His first business was keeping a small store and furnishing articles needed in a country neighborhood. By marriage and by purchase he became the owner of a large tract of timber land, and he connected with his mercantile business that of wood and lumber. He afterwards purchased a tract of farm land adjoining his homestead and carried on quite an extensive farm in connection with his other enterprises. The brick making business soon gave him a wider field for the exercise of his powers, and this, with the rapid advance in the value of real estate, increased his wealth to such an extent that he is now considered one of the richest men of the county. In 1829 he was elected member of Assembly and was reelected in 1830. He was for some years active as a military man, first as colonel and afterwards as brigadier general of militia in Rockland county. He was also judge of the Court of Common Pleas. Mr Allison's children are:

1. Eugenia, who married, first, William McArdle, second, William Knight.
 - + 2. Brewster Jones.
 3. Mary Margaret
 4. George S., who died young.
 5. Amanda, wife of Watson Tomkins.
2. Brewster Jones Allison was born July 5, 1821, and after attending the district school of his neighborhood, was sent to an institution at Peekskill where he obtained a more extended education. The first part of his business life was spent in a store with his father, and he afterward engaged with him in brickmaking which he continued for two years. The yard was then leased to other parties and he engaged in land surveying. He held the office of town superintendent of schools from 1848 until 1853, when the office was abolished. He was a member of the Legislature in 1850, and served on the committees of Roads and Bridges and Towns and Cities. The rival candidate for the position was

Edward Pye. Mr. Allison was elected on a "Free Soil" ticket and naturally drifted into the Republican party to which he is still attached. In 1853 he again entered into the manufacture of brick, in which he is still engaged.

Mr. Allison is connected with the First Presbyterian Church of Haverstraw, with which he united in 1854, and is one of the elders of that society.

He married Anna Elizabeth, daughter of William C. Houseman, November 19, 1856. Their children were;

1. Cornelia H., wife of Daniel M. Coffin
2. George S., who married Sarah, daughter of Denton Fowler.
3. William Brewster, who died in infancy.

Mr. Allison was married a second time to Anna G., daughter of Nelson Andrus, May 27, 1868. Their children are;

4. Brewster J.
5. Samuel G., died young.
6. Amanda Tompkins
7. Sarah Andrus.
8. Calvin Tompkins
9. Anna Mary
10. Hannah Brewster
11. Eugenia Knight
12. Fanny Gertrude.

Mr. Allison lives at the village of Stony Point with his father, the venerable Judge George S. Allison, whose health and activity are wonderful considering his advanced age, and the evening of whose life is rendered pleasant by the care and attention of a devoted family.

Descendants of Benjamin Allison, son of John.

+ Benjamin was the oldest son of John Allison, but the date of his birth is unknown. His father left him the farm which originally belonged to Dirk Cron, and which included all the land between the Musseongo Creek and the "Benson Farm." He also left him 200 acres of land on the other side of the creek, west of the road to the cemetery

He lived in the old stone house at the corner of the roads northeast of the First Presbyterian Church. He had four sons:

1. Peter, who inherited the old homestead, died 1815. He had wife, Catharine, and children:

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the existence of solutions of the system of equations

$$\begin{aligned} & \frac{dx}{dt} = f(x, y, z) \\ & \frac{dy}{dt} = g(x, y, z) \\ & \frac{dz}{dt} = h(x, y, z) \end{aligned}$$ where f, g, h are continuous functions of x, y, z in a certain region R of the space (x, y, z) .

2. In the second part of the paper, we consider the problem of the uniqueness of solutions. We show that if the functions f, g, h satisfy certain conditions, then there is at most one solution of the system of equations

$$\begin{aligned} & \frac{dx}{dt} = f(x, y, z) \\ & \frac{dy}{dt} = g(x, y, z) \\ & \frac{dz}{dt} = h(x, y, z) \end{aligned}$$ which passes through a given point (x_0, y_0, z_0) at a given time t_0 . We show that these conditions are satisfied

if the functions f, g, h are continuous and have continuous partial derivatives with respect to x, y, z .

3. In the third part of the paper, we consider the problem of the extension of solutions. We show that if the functions f, g, h are continuous and have continuous partial derivatives with respect to x, y, z , then any solution of the system of equations

$$\begin{aligned} & \frac{dx}{dt} = f(x, y, z) \\ & \frac{dy}{dt} = g(x, y, z) \\ & \frac{dz}{dt} = h(x, y, z) \end{aligned}$$

can be extended as far as the boundary of the region in which the functions f, g, h are continuous and have continuous partial derivatives with respect to x, y, z .

1. The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the cold. It was a sharp contrast to the warm blanket I was sitting under. I looked up at the dark, starry sky and felt a sense of awe. The stars were so bright and clear, like diamonds scattered across a black velvet. I had never seen anything like this before. It was beautiful and mysterious. I wanted to reach out and touch them, but I knew I couldn't.
They were too far away. I closed my eyes and tried to imagine what it would be like to fly through space. I could feel the wind rushing past me, the sun burning brightly in the distance. It was a wonderful feeling. I opened my eyes and looked back at the stars. They were still there, waiting for me. I smiled and felt a sense of peace. This was my first experience of space travel. It was amazing and unforgettable.

Prominent Picton Physician Dr. Gerald Allison Passes

The community lost one of its most esteemed residents over the weekend with the sudden death Saturday afternoon, April 3, 1971, of Dr. Gerald Allison, at Kingston General Hospital.

A practising physician for about 56 years, Dr. Allison also held an impressive military service record, and was active in numerous community activities.

A Picton native, he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Allison.

His military record spans two world wars, commencing early in the First World War when he joined the army and went overseas in 1916. Loaned by the Canadian Army to the Royal Medical Corps, Dr. Allison earned steady promotion. He saw service in the Gallipoli campaign, and later went to Egypt, then India, leaving a base hospital at Bombay for active service in the famous Khyber Pass. He returned to France in 1917, where he served with the 47th London Division, later with a field ambulance, and subsequently as medical officer to the London Irish Rifles.

He remained active in the militia following the war, and this helped earn him the distinction of being one of two Canadians appointed by the Federal Government to the Defence Council of Canada in 1938. The council at that time was an advisory commission on military matters making recommendations to the Minister of National Defence.

He enlisted for active service again in 1939, serving for one year as District Medical Officer for Military District No. 3, Kingston. Following this, he was on the medical staff of the Canadian Army in Ottawa, holding the position of AMD No. 1.

He was loaned to the air raid precautions organization for Canada, holding the position of director, ambulance, St. John Ambulance Association and commandery commissioner, St. John Ambulance. While in this work, Dr. Allison organized the medical part of civilian defence for Canada.

He returned to Picton in the autumn of 1943 to resume his medical practice.

He continued to remain active in St. John Ambulance, among many other organizations. He was a member of the Picton Rotary Club, a keenly active member of the Picton Golf and Country Club, a past president of the United Empire Loyalists Association, and was a prominent member of the Masonic Lodge, serving as master of the Prince Edward Lodge No. 18 A.F. and A.M., in 1940, a past preceptor of the St. George Preceptory, No. 52, first principal of Prince Edward Chapter in 1946 and a member of Rameses Shrine Temple.

He was also active in politics, having held various executive positions in the local Liberal associations, and had several times been asked to serve as candidate, but declined because of his medical duties.

Besides his wife, the former Vera Branscombe, he is survived by one sister, Mrs. Joseph Bolton (Geraldine) of Montreal.

The funeral was scheduled for Tuesday, April 6, 1971 at 2 p.m. from the Whattam Funeral Home, with entombment following in Glenwood Cemetery vault. A Masonic service was held Monday evening. A Legion service was also held Monday evening.

NEW COLUMN

Newcomer Likes Warm

By ALAN HOLLEY-HIME

Hello people, I've been given the opportunity to write a column through which the teenagers can air their views, their problems or their comments on the community and environment.

I am from the Madoc district, and moved down here about two weeks ago. I made this move after many visits that convinced me I like it here.

In Centre Hastings Secondary School I found that newcomers were regarded with reserve by a great many of the students. Down here, exactly the opposite tends to be true. Everyone has a much more open attitude toward strangers.

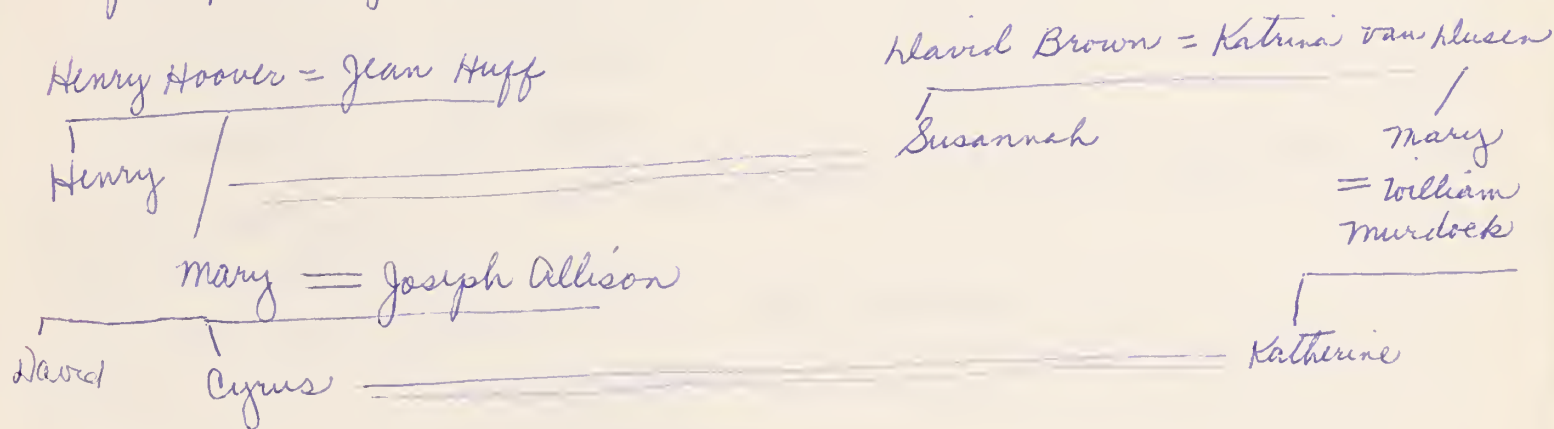

As I said at the beginning, I aim

Mary Brown (p. 32, 2-11) dau. David Brown and Katrina van Klusen, married William Murdock. Their daughter, Katherine Murdock, married Cyrus Allison, son of Joseph Allison and Mary Hoover. These two are buried in the Joseph Allison vault. Their granddaughter is living in Adolphustown. Her name is Amy Kluffett.

So it's not really odd at all that William Brown named his son Joseph Allison Brown. Seems they were pretty closely related.

So much for the genealogy. Mrs. Allison has promised to send dates to go with the above data. We no doubt she will get around to it some of these days. When she does, we'll send it along.

The Hoover Family.

Casper Hoover ^{was said to have been} ~~was~~ born in Holland about 1730, and came to America as a young man. He married Barbara Monk, and was living in Southern New York on the Susquehanna River. He was living on a leased farm and had a number of animals and had cleared a few acres when the Revolution began. He, with his three sons, joined Butler's Rangers in 1777 and removed to Niagara with his wife and family. The duties with Butler's Corps became too strenuous for him so he was sent down river to Montreal. Here he became employed as a bateman man carting ^x provisions and troops up and down the St Lawrence River. During this time he and his wife lived in Lachine, near Montreal. At the peace he came to the Bay of Quinte and with his two sons and other members of his family settled in Adolphustown. Here he died in 1791, leaving a wife and ^{two} ~~one~~ sons. His known children were

1. John, joined Butler's Rangers with his father and brothers in 1777, and was taken prisoner by the rebels on 3 January, 1778. There is no further record of him.

2. Henry, joined Butler's Rangers with his father and brothers in 1777. ^x (see below for further information.)

3. Jacob, settled in Adolphustown and died Oct 19, concession one. Throum 19 May 1789 to Millicent Ferguson, daughter of Richard. He died between 11 July 1790 and 31 July 1791, leaving an only child, Jacob, baptized 11 July 1790.

There were no other known children.

Henry Moore, said to have been born in 1763. He died 23 August 1844 (the year is missing), aged 49 years 5 months and 17 days. He joined Butler's Rangers in 1777, with his father and brother, and after leaving all the war, settled in Adolphustown in 1784, on Oct 15, concession one. He married in 1790 ^x Jane, daughter of Solomon Hoff, also a Loyalist. She was born in 1773. They had a large family, namely:

1. Elizabeth, married 3 Nov, 1816, David Wright of Chomake Township.

2. Samuel C., born in 1796 or 7. No further record.

^x 3. Mary, married, before 1823, Joseph B. Allison, of Adolphustown (see that family for further record).

4. Eva N., married the Rev. Cyrus Allison, a brother of Joseph B.

THE BALFOUR Family.

The Balfour family, as well as the Armstrongs, came from Ireland to Canada about 1830-1835. Both families were Scottish in origin, and had emigrated from Southern Scotland to Ulster, in Northern Ireland, likely about 1675.

Gabriel Balfour was a son of William Balfour. ~~Ann was his wife, Jane.~~ The father, William, born in 1791, as well as Jane, ~~his wife,~~ Balfour, perhaps his grandmother, born 1776, died 1868, all buried in Bath United Church Cemetery. Gabriel married Ann Armstrong about 1835, where is not known. As both these families had come from Ireland about that time, it is possible that they had been married in Ireland.

5. Margaret, married Edward Squires of Huntington Township

6 Jane Anne

7 Millicent, born in 1816 or 17.

8. Henry, born in 1802, married Susannah Brown. - 280

The Huff Family.

The background of the Huff family is somewhat uncertain and there are variations. The reason may be that there were several families with similar names but with different origins. One of the more reliable records prepared by experienced genealogists has the family originating in a Norwegian named Engelbert Huff who married about 1690 at Tarrytown, N.Y. Marilee Williams, Engelbert is said to have died 21 March 1765 at Fishkill N.Y. aged 128 years. Their son William born 1714, married Elizabeth Petan. Williams children were

Solomon (see above) born in 1751 and died in 1828, married Eva Savade, born in 1757. He is reported to have owned a farm of 200 acres in the present City of New York. He came in 1788, and settled in Adolphustown. Proof that he was called a loyalist is borne out by his children all drawing land as the sons & daughters of a loyalist. His children were

1 Sarah, married Jacob Schmage

2. Elizabeth, married William Wright

3 Jan., married Henry Hoover (see the Hoover family).

THE BALFOUR Family.

The Balfour family, as well as the Armstrongs, came from Ireland to Canada about 1830-1835. Both families were Scottish in Origin, and had emigrated from Southern Scotland to Ulster, in Northern Ireland, likely about 1675.

Gabriel Balfour was a son of William Balfour. ~~and his wife, Jane.~~ The father, William, born in 1791, as well as Jane, ~~his wife,~~ Balfour, perhaps his grandmother, born 1776, died 1868, all buried in Bath United Church Cemetery. Gabriel married Ann Armstrong about 1835, where is not known. As both these families had come from Ireland about that time, it is possible that they had been married in Ireland.

The Balfour and Armstrong Families.

The Balfour and Armstrong families came to Canada from Northern Ireland in the 1830's. Both families are Scottish in origin, and had emigrated to Ireland from Southern Scotland many years before the emigration to America.

Gabriel Belfour (Balfour) lies buried in the United Church Cemetery in Bath. In the same plot there are several members of his family. Among them in Jane Balfour, born in 1776, and died in 1868, also a William Belfour, born in 1791, and died in 1879. It is assumed that they are the father and the grandmother of Gabriel, although they could have been his parents.

Gabriel Belfour, born in 1812, and died in 1897, had married Ann Armstrong, born in 1808, and died in 1867. It is believed that Ann was killed in a train-wagon accident at Collins Bay. Gabriel later married, as second wife, Ellen Richards, born in July, 1827, and died 9 June, 1917. It is not known where Gabriel and Ann were married. It is possible that they were married in Ireland before emigration. In any event, they had these known children. There may have been more:

1. John, born in 1837, and died in 1901. He married, or did he? I do not know. However, he was postmaster in Bath for a number of years.
- # 2. Thomas Armstrong, born 22 June, 1838, and died ~~XXXXXX~~ 3 April, 1883. See later.
3. William, born in 1842.
4. E.-----, female, born in 1846. Nothing further is known.
5. H.-----, female, born in 1849. Nothing further is known.

Thomas Armstrong Balfour, born 22 June, 1838, and died 3 April, 1883. He married Hannah E. McCready, born 1840, and died in 1938. They resided on Lot 18, concession 1, South Fredericksburgh. Their children were:

1. Percy, who married Edna -----.
2. Jack, who married Muriel McGrady.
3. Harry, who married Harriet Hurlbut. They later resided in Toronto.
4. Myrtle, born in 1876, and ~~XXXXXX~~ died on 30 May, 1932. She married Arthur Allison. See references in the Allison family.
5. Annie Elizabeth, married Rev. Mr. Fotheringham, a Presbyterian Minister.

The Armstrong Family.

Thomas Armstrong, 1773-1853, and his wife, Elizabeth, 1776-1856, were both born in Ireland. They came to Canada, accompanied by several children, and, as is suspected, with the Belfours about 1835. Their known children were:

1. Thomas, born 1818, and died in 1879, married Harriet Maria Fry, likely a ~~son~~ daughter of Christian Fry, who also appears to have been living in Bath.
- # 2. Ann, born 1808, and died in 1867, the wife of Gabriel Belfour. (see above).
3. Henry, born in 1822, and died in 1894. He married Sara A. Rose, daughter of Joseph Rose and his wife, Aurilla Fretz.

There may have been other children, but they are not known at present.

Thomas Armstrong, his sons and his son-in-law, Gabriel Belfour, combined to establish a Carriage Factory in Bath, perhaps as early as 1835. The census record of 1851, furnishes information about its output. This factory was situated on the west side of Lodge Street, in Bath, between Main Street and the Bay shore. It was comprised of several buildings. These were the workshop, the blacksmith shop, the paint shop, and a storehouse. This latter building stood near the Bay. It had been a Presbyterian Church at McIntyre's Corners, north of Bath. The church was unused and was sold ~~the~~ to the firm about 1860, and torn down, removed to

The MEMBERY Family.

Giles Membery, his wife, Elizabeth Raymond, with their two children, Mariah and Amos, as well as his father, Amos, Sr., all born in Dorsetshire, England, emigrated to United States, it is said, in 1832. This could be an error, as the Census Records of 1851, states that these two children were born in England in 1836 and 1838, while the third child was born in the United States in 1840. If this true, then emigration must have been in 1839. By 1842, the family had removed to Ontario, and were settled in Fredericksburgh, where Martha was born in 1842. By 1845 the family had removed to Adolphustown, where they occupied the farm where their daughter, Martha, and her husband, Arthur Allison resided in later years. Their children were:

1. Maria, born in England in 1836.
2. Amos, born in England in 1838.
3. Frederick, born in United States in 1840.
- # 4. Martha, born in Fredericksburgh in 1842. She married Joseph B. Allison.
5. Sarah A., born in Adolphustown in 1845.
6. Walter, born in Adolphustown in 1849.
7. Amelia E., born in Adolphustown. in 1853. She married David W. Allison.

Giles Membery was a Free Thinker by religion. His wife belonged to the Anglican Church. The sons are recorded as Free Thinkers, while the daughters belonged to their mother's church. Most of the Membery family lie buried in the Anglican Church Cemetery in Adolphustown. The two daughters who married the Allison brothers are interred in the Allison Mausoleum on the Bay Road in Adolphustown Township.

The Hoover Family.

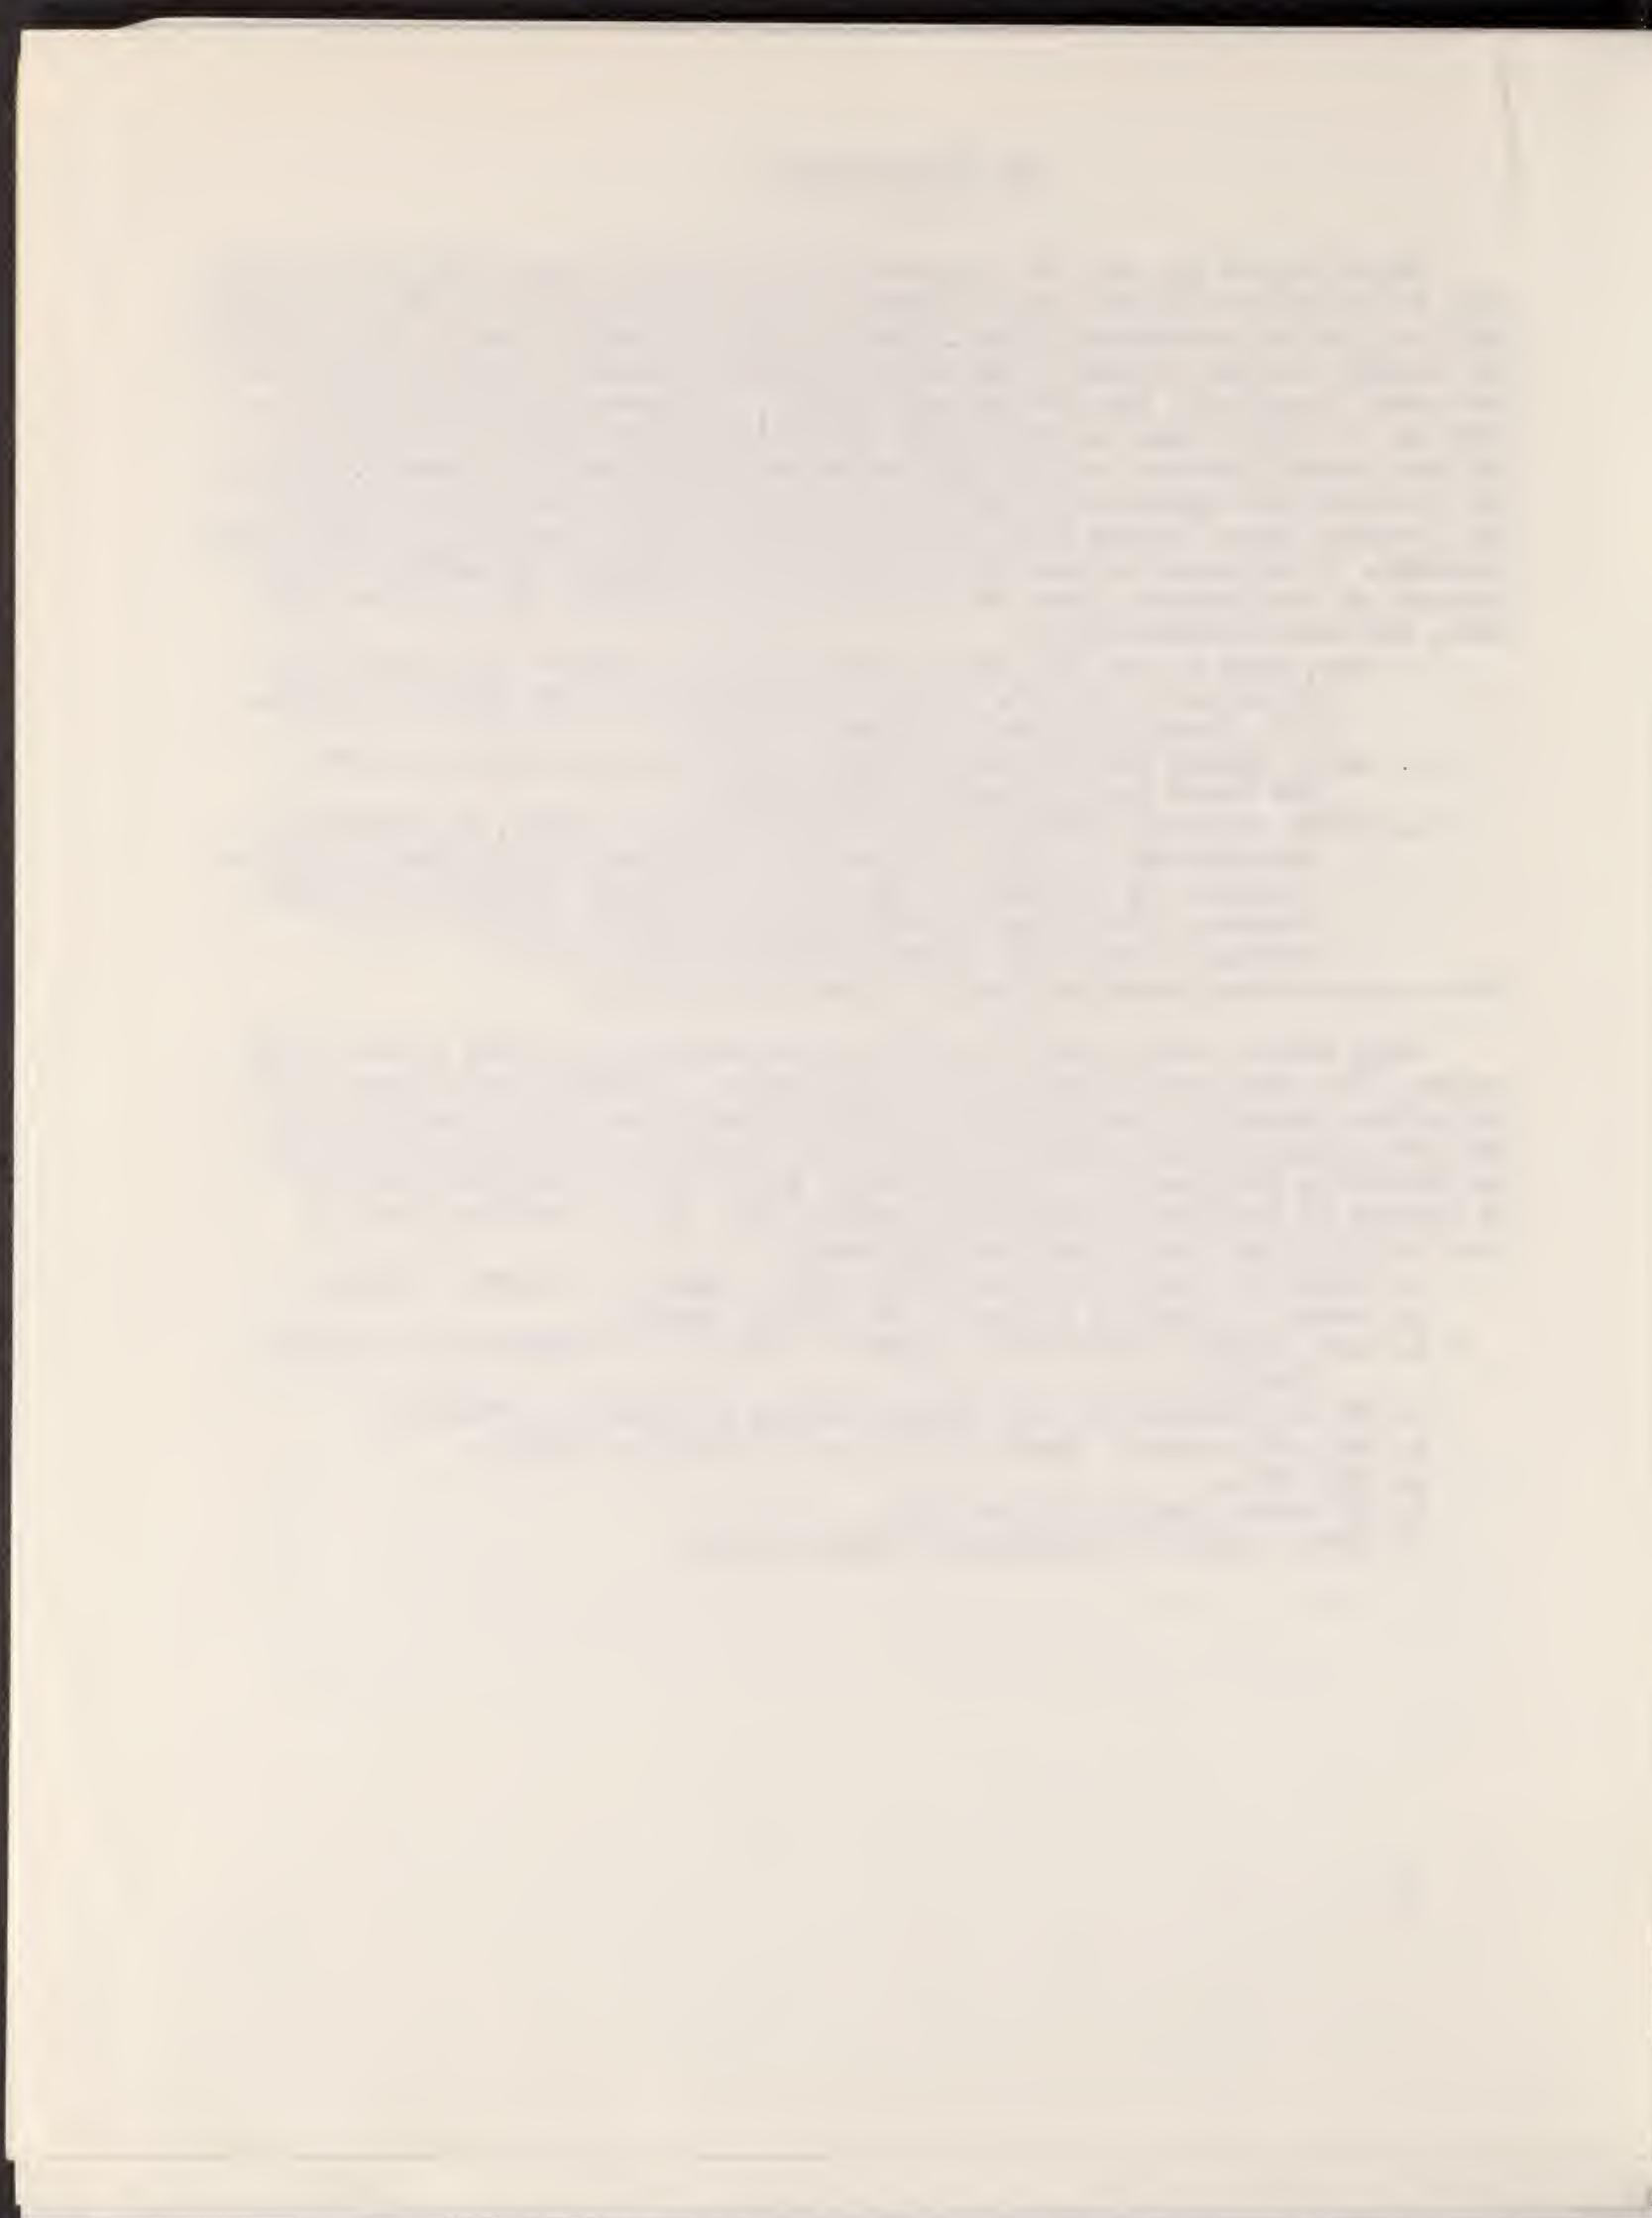

Caspar Hoover was said to have been born in Holland about 1730, and to have come to America as a young man. He married Barbara Monk and was living in Southern New York, on the Susquehanna River. Here he was on a leased farm and had a number of animals, and had cleared a few acres when the Revolution began. He, with his two sons, joined Col. Butler's Rangers in 1777, and removed to Niagara with his wife and a younger son. The duties with Butler's Rangers became too strenuous for him, possibly due to old injury, and he was transferred to Montreal. Here he was employed as a batteau man, carting provisions and soldiers up and down the St. Lawrence River. During these years he and his family resided at Lachine, near Montreal. At the peace he came up the river with VanAlstine and settled in the township of Adolphustown. Here he died in 1791, leaving his wife and two known sons. His known children were:

1. John, born in New York State, joined Butler's Rangers with his father and brother, in 1777. He was taken prisoner by the rebels on 3 Jan., 1778. There is no further record of him.
2. Henry, joined Butler's Rangers with his father and brother in 1777. (See below for additional information).
3. Jacob, evidently under ten years of age during the war. He settled in Adolphustown in 1784, and drew Lot 19 in the first concession of the Township. He married, 19 May, 1789, Millicent, daughter of Richard Ferguson. Jacob died between 11 July, 1790 and 31 July, 1791, leaving an only son, Jacob, baptized 11 July, 1790.

There were no other known children of Caspar and Barbara.

Henry Hoover, (see above) is said to have been born in 1763. He died 23rd August, 184- (the year is missing), aged 79 years, 5 months, and 17 days, if we can believe Canniff's History of the Settlement of Upper Canada. Henry joined Butler's Rangers in 1777, with his father and brother, and served all the war. He settled in Adolphustown in 1784, drawing Lot 15 in the first Concession. He married in 1790 Jane, daughter of Solomon Huff, also a Loyalist. She was born in 1773. They had a large family, namely:

1. Elizabeth, married 2 Nov., 1816, David Wright, of Cramahe Township.
2. Samuel C., born in 1796 or 7. No further record.
- # 3. Mary, married before 1823, Joseph B. Allison of Adolphustown (see that family).
4. Eva N., married the Rev. Cyrus Allison, a brother of Joseph B.
5. Margaret, married Edward Squires, of Huntingdon Township.
6. Jane Anne.
7. Millicent, born in 1816 or 17.
8. Henry, born in 1802, married Susannah Brown.

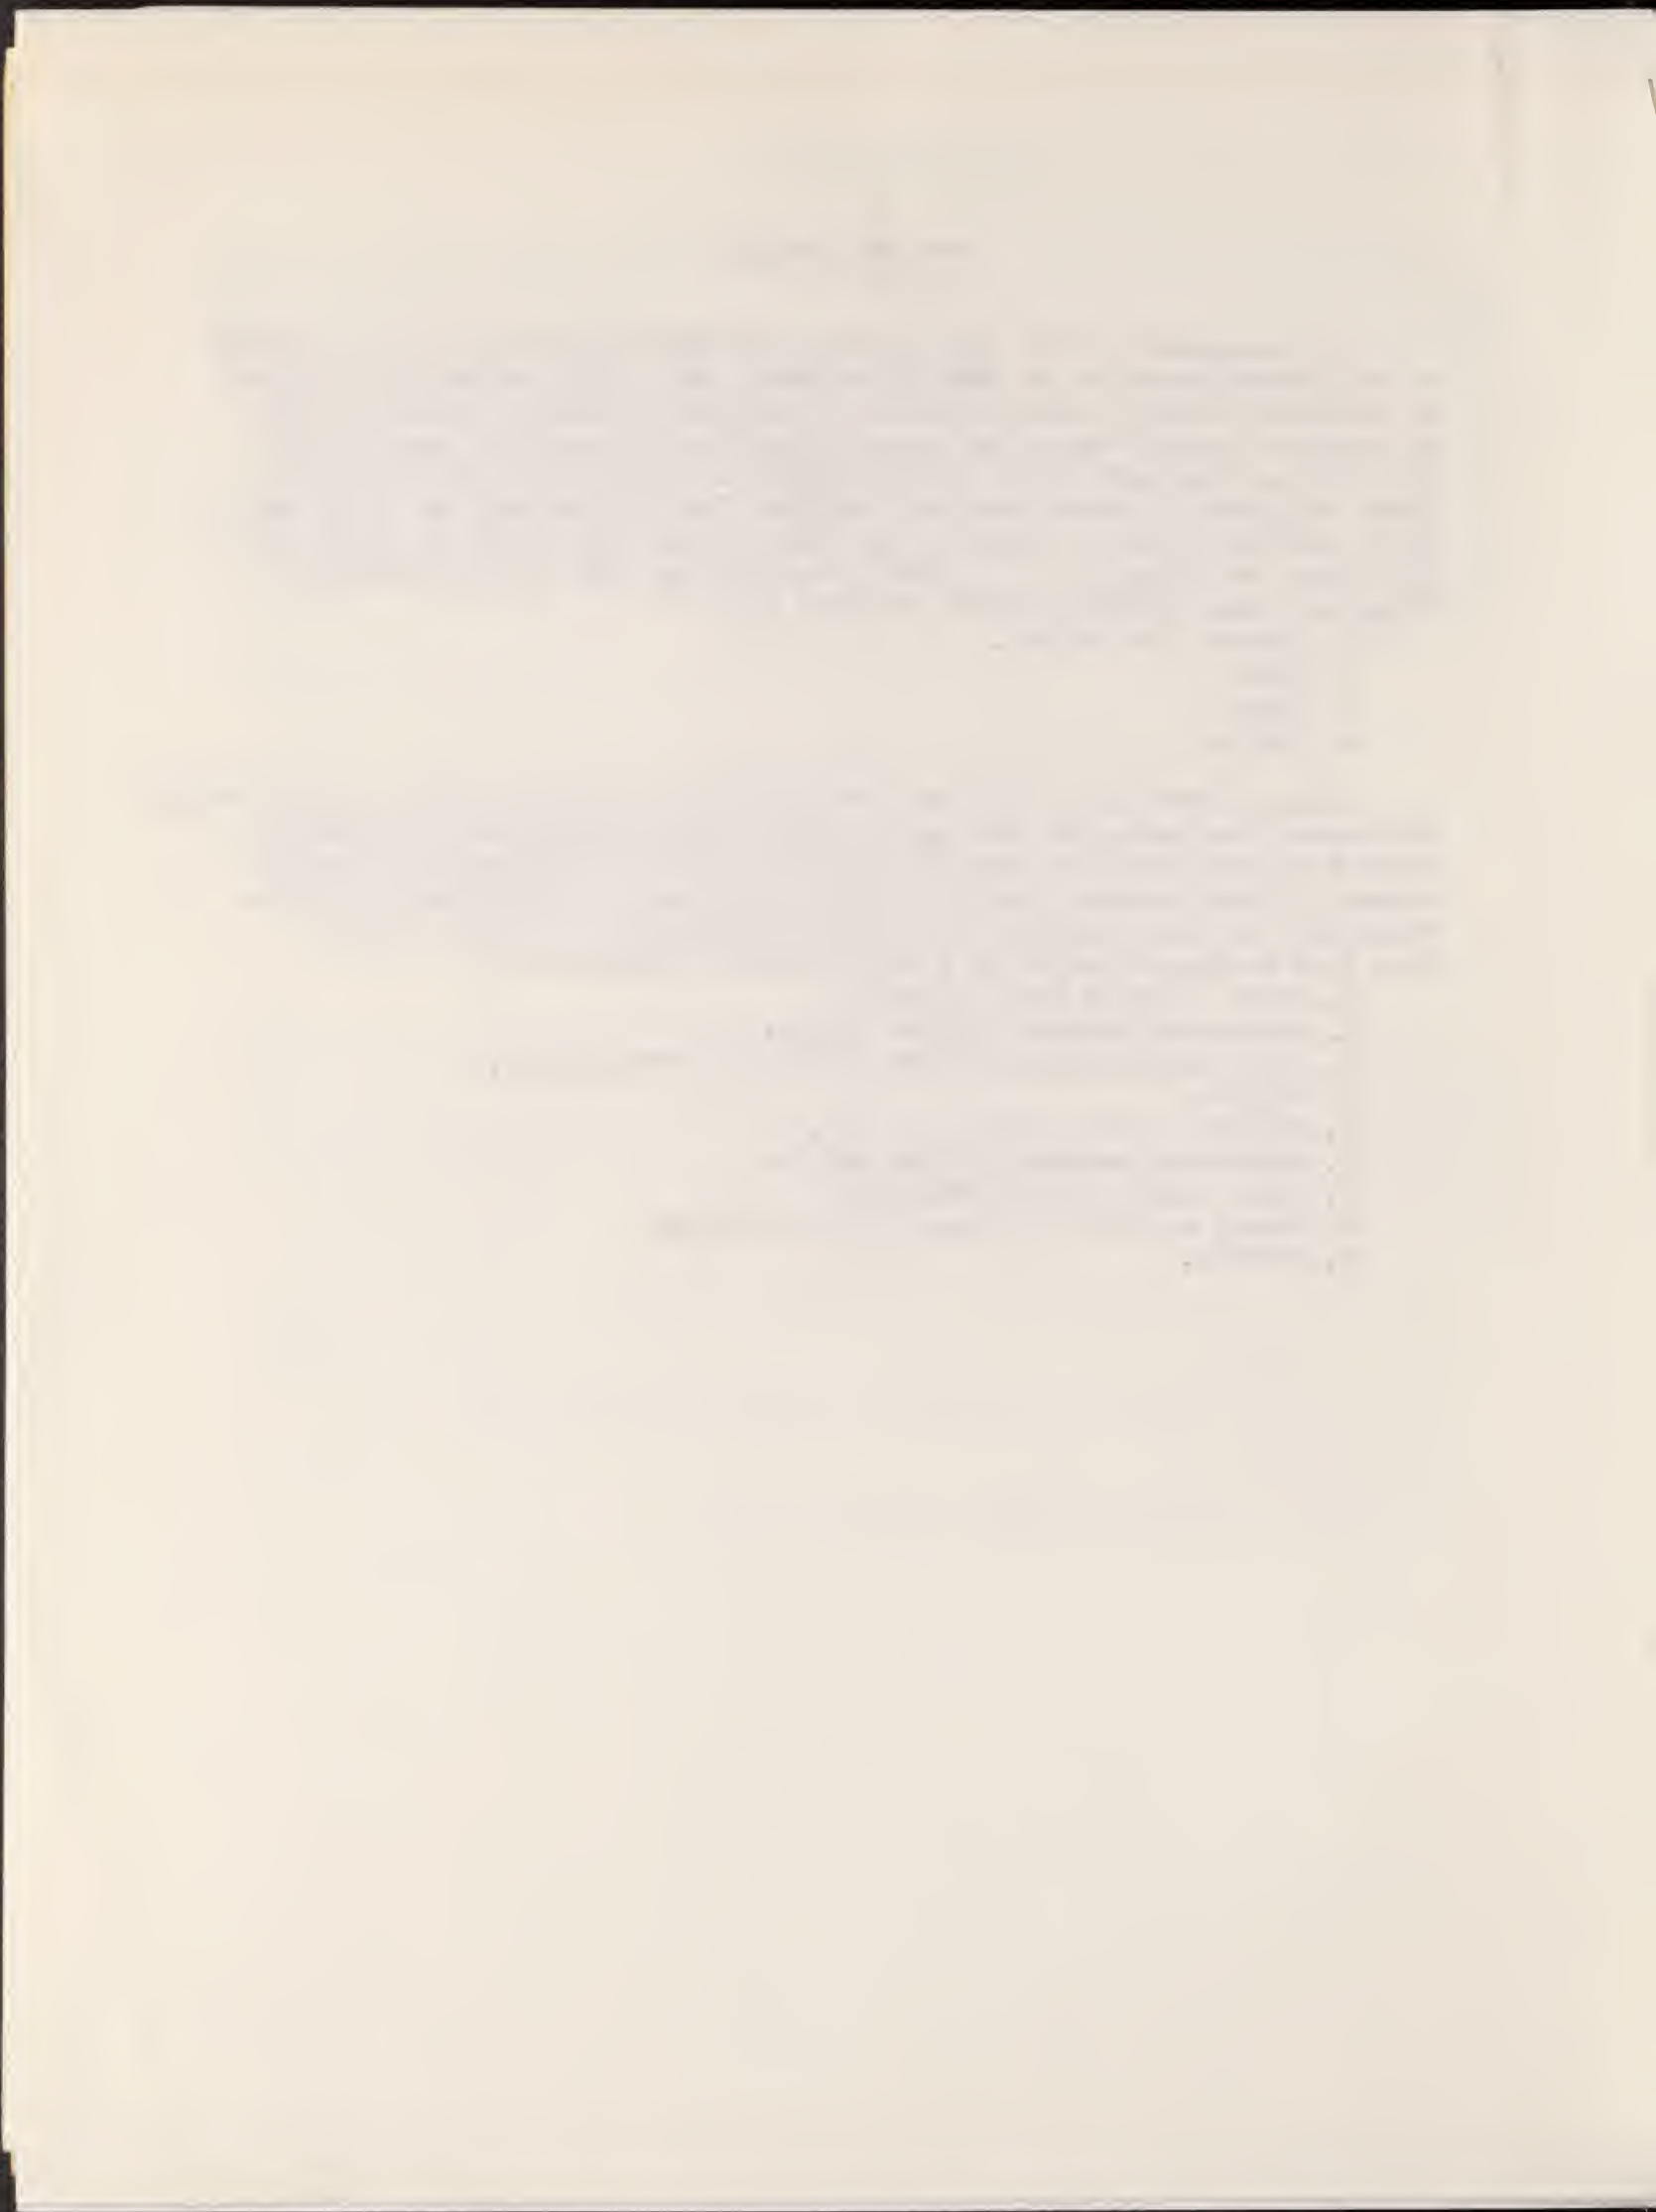

The Huff Family.

The background of the Huff family is somewhat uncertain. This is caused by the several versions of spelling---Hough, Hof, Huff--- as well as origins of different family groups. They may be Norwegian, Swedish, German, Dutch, of Huguenot French. One of the more reliable researchers has come up with the story of the Huff family of Adolphustown. It is almost sure that the Huffs originate in Norway with an Engelbert Huff wh married, in Tarrytown, N. Y., Maritie Willems. Engelbert is said to have died 21 March, 1765, aged 128 years, at Fishkill, N. Y. Their son, William, born in 1714, married Elizabeth Retan (Ruttan). Their children were:

- # 1. Solomon (see below).
- 2. Paul.
- 3. John.
- 4. Angus.

Solomon Huff (see above) was born in 1751, and died in 1828 in Adolphustown. He married Eva Swade, who was born in 1757. He is reported to have owned a farm of 200 acres in the present City of New York. He suffered the usual losses of loyal persons, and is said to have come to Adolphustown in 1783. Proof that he was a Loyalist has been established, as all his children drew land as the offspring of a Loyalist. His children were:

- 1. Sarah, married Jacob Dulmage.
- 2. Elizabeth, married William Wright.
- # 3. Jane, married Henry Hoover (see the Hoover family).
- 4. William.
- 5. Richard, married Sophia Snider.
- 6. Catherine, married Abraham Maybee.
- 7. Mary, married Henry Vandusen.
- 8. Peter, married, 3 Sept., 1812, Ann Heald.
- 9. Solomon.

The Allison Family.

The originator of the name in America was John Allison, a Scot from the city of Edinburgh, who emigrated about 1680. He settled in Haverstraw, a town on The Lower Hudson River, about thirty miles north of New York City. It is said that He once owned the land on which Haverstraw is now located.

By his wife, an English woman, ~~husband~~ named Amy Wood, he had the following children:

- # 1. Joseph.
2. John.
3. Benjamin.
4. William.
5. Deborah, the wife of John Johnson.
6. Elizabeth, the wife of ----- Cooper.
7. Mary, the wife of ----- De Grough.
8. Hanah, the wife of John Taylor.
9. Richard, a physician, who died in 1749.

Joseph, the first son, born Aug. 4, 1722, and died Jan. 2, 1796, married Elizabeth, daughter of Matthew Benson, March 10, 1743. By this marriage he had the following children:

- a. Matthew, born July 13, 1743.
- b. Elizabeth, born Oct. 2, 1745, married David Ten Eyck.
- c. Mary, born Oct. 17, 1747, married Amos Hutchings.
- d. Hannah, born Feb. 14, 1750, married Adrian Waldron.
- # e. Joseph, born May 29, 1752.
- f. John, born May 12, 1754.
- g. William, born Mar. 11, 1756.
- h. Thomas, born Feb. 11, 1760.
- i. Deborah, born June 29, 1762, married William Willis.
- # j. Benjamin, born July 3, 1764.

Elizabeth, the wife of Joseph Allison, died Dec. 12, 1767, and he married, secondly, Elsie Parcells on May 4, 1769. They had the following children

- k. Peter, born Nov. 19, 1769.
- l. Amos, born May 29, 1771.
- m. Michael, born June 3, 1773.
- n. Parcells, born April 25, 1777.
- o. Richard, born Oct. 23, 1780.
- p. Elsie, born Nov. 9, 1783, married Jacob Archer.
- q. Abraham, twin of Elsie, died in infancy.

Joseph Allison, son of Joseph, Senior, born May 29, 1752, married Mary Richmond, a daughter of Cyrus Richmond, of Rhode Island, and a descendant of John Richmond, a pioneer trader on the coast of Maine, in the very early days in America. Joseph was a shipbuilder, and early joined the Loyalist forces. He with his wife came to Canada with Major Peter Van Alstine, and settled in Adolphustown on June 16, 1784. They both died in 1840, and are buried in the first Cemetery, which is now part of the Adolphustown Provincial Park. They had no children, but adopted Joseph B., the son of his younger brother, Benjamin. Joseph B. inherited his uncle's property.

Benjamin Allison, younger brother of Joseph, the U. E. Loyalist, was born at Haverstraw, N. Y., July 3, 1764. He came to Adolphustown, about 1795, but, as he had not joined the Royal Standard during the Revolution, he is not classed as a United Empire Loyalist. He had married Phoebe Davidson, and they had three children when they came to Canada. Their children were:

1. John Allison, who married Annie Sprung.
- # 2. Joseph B. Allison, who will be mentioned later.

3. Rev. Cyrus R. Allison, married Eva Hoover.
4. Benjamin Allison, married Catherine Sprague.
5. Amy Allison, married Stephen Roblin.
6. Mary Allison, married, first, Samuel Sprague; second, Halley Sprague.
7. Phoebe Allison, married Peter Rightmeyer.
8. ----- Allison, married Richard Smith.

Joseph B. Allison, who was adopted by his uncle, Joseph, U. E., married Mary, daughter of Henry Hoover, U. E., and Jane Huff, and granddaughter of Caspar Hoover, and of Solomon Huff, both Loyalists. Their children were:

- a. Amy Allison, married Joseph Gunsolus.
- b. David W. Allison, married Amelia E. Membery, and settled in Adolphustown.
- c. John W. Allison, married, first, Margaret Ferguson, and, second, Mary Campbell.
- d. Henry H. Allison, married Martha Wright.
- e. Cyrus R. Allison, married Catherine Murdoff.
- f. Elizabeth Allison, married, first, Frederick Box, and, second, Rev. Wm. Bryden.
- g. Miriam A. Allison, married Lewis Brown.
- h. Phoebe J. Allison, married Nelson Mallory.
- # i. Joseph B. Allison, married Martha Membery and settled in Adolphustown
- j. Stephen E. Allison, married and settled in Port Perry.

Joseph B. Allison, married Martha Membery, and had these children:

1. Edna A. K. Allison.
2. Anne M. E. Allison, married Mr. Davis.

- # 3. Arthur W. Allison, married Myrtle H. Balfour.

Arthur W. Allison, died 19 November, 1962, aged 81 years, following a farm accident. His wife, ~~Martha~~ Myrtle H. Balfour, died May 30, 1932, aged 56 years. Their children were:

- a. Balfour H. Allison, deceased.
- b. Percy W. Allison, unmarried.
- c. Marjorie M. Allison, married Leslie Chiles, and resides in Wilton, Ont.
- d. Martha Allison, deceased.
- e. Harriet A. M. Allison, unmarried.

The Balfour Family of Bath came from Ireland, ~~at~~ some time before 1838. Gabriel was accompanied by his mother Jane and possibly by his wife Ann Armstrong, whom he had married in Ireland or in Canada after the emigration. The Armstrong family also came from Ireland and they may have accompanied the Balfours about 1830-5.

William Armstrong, Ann's father, was born in 1791 and died in 1879, and ~~possibly a widower on emigration~~ accompanied by his wife, Elizabeth, ~~who~~ died on 24 March 1856, aged 78. They died on the Bressa farm on the Front Road, ~~just west of road 17 in Fredericksburgh~~ (corner lot 22 W^{est} Armstrong) ^{just} east of Millhaven.
